New Parole Effort is Started by Claney

Convicted Merion Title Official Completes Half of Minimum Sentence

SUFFERS HEART STRAIN

Murdoch P. Claney began a new attempt to obtain a parole last Friday. That day marked the completion of one-half of the minimum sentence of the convicted Merion Title and Trust Company vice-president—one year of his two to four year term.

A petition seeking a rehearing on the parole was filed with the Court by Claney's attorney, James H. Egan, of Bryn Mawr.

Last September Attorney Egan filed a petition seeking a parole for Claney, who was sentenced to jail February 15, 1935. The Court conducted a hearing on the petition October 25 and on November 2 Judge Knight turned down the request.

The new petition for parole states that the prisoner is suffering from heart strain, which is causing physical disability. It is also stated that his wife is in ill health.

In addition to his jail sentence Claney was fined $500 and ordered to pay the court costs for the trial.

In imposing sentence Judge Knight intimated that a petition for a parole might receive favorable consideration.

The bank, whose funds Claney was charged with misapplying, closed its doors October 28, 1931.

OBSERVE FOUNDERS' DAY

The regular monthly meeting of the Narberth Parent-Teacher Association was held Monday evening in the Narberth school auditorium. The Rev. Robert Keighton gave the invocation and Scout Sonia Anderson led the salute to the flag. Mrs. E. A. Whiting reported that there were 306 members at present and Mrs. Gerald Cochran, publicity chairman, gave a brief report on the P-T. A. booklet, which keeps members informed as to the work of the organization.

Mrs. Wesley P. Dunnington, the president, who presided, reported that honorable mention had been given by the Montgomery Council for the Narberth P-T. A. book compiled by Mrs. Kenneth Wilson. She also announced that the next meeting of the P-T. A. had been postponed from March 16 to March 23.

Miss Taylor, teacher of domestic science at the Narberth school, gave a short talk on what home economics means to home life. She and members of her class presented three skits.

Under the leadership of Mrs. W. J. Drennen, the P-T. A. Chorus sang two numbers.

In celebration of Founder's Day, Mrs. Samuel J. McCartney read a paper on the founding of the P-T. A., which took place in this country in 1890.

Questionnaire in regard to the P-T. A. work and officers was given out to the members, who were given five minutes to answer by the president. These questions applied to the national and State organizations.

A social hour followed, when refreshments were served. A birthday cake was on the beautifully decorated table in celebration of Founder's Day.

Aliens Are Viewed as Biggest Threat to U. S.

Major Prentiss Cites Large Number on Relief Rolls
in D. A. R. Talk

HE URGES DEPORTATION

Aliens constitute the gravest threat to the United States, declared Major Henry M. Prentiss, headmaster of Valley Forge Military Academy.

The charge was made in the course of an address on "National Defense" at the annual Washington's Birthday tea given by the Dr. Benjamin Rush Chapter, D. A. R., Monday afternoon in the Legion Room of the Narberth Community Building.

In support of his claim, Major Prentiss cited the large number of aliens on relief rolls who do not believe in the ideals of the country, but yet are fed and clothed by well-meaning and patriotic citizens.

The speaker recommended deporting aliens wherever possible and use of the passport method of identifying them when they enter the country.

The soloist of the afternoon was Mrs. C. Frederick Kuebler, Jr., who in her usual and charming manner sang four songs. The group included "Yesterday and Today," "Nobody Knows the Trouble I've Seen," "The Cuckoo" and "In a Luxemburg Garden." Miss Margaret Squier was the accompanist.

The Ways and Means Committee, at the tea table, included Mrs. Franklin R. Lindsay, chairman; Mrs. R. A. Mizner, Mrs. C. Arley Farmer, Mrs. Verna R. Woodcock, Mrs. E. B. Hoskins, Mrs. John L. Miller, Mrs. Joseph H. Miller and the regent, Mrs. John C. Nash.

This committee will give a covered-dish luncheon and card party on March 23 at the home of Mrs. J. H. Baker, 290 Haverford avenue.

Mrs. Woodcock was elected an alternate delegate to the D. A. R. convention to be held in Washington in April.

The chapter will give a Washington's Birthday program at the Narberth school this Friday at 1 P. M.

Mrs. Nash announced that the chapter had lost one of the members by death, Miss Martha Shadel.

Ellis College Head Women's Club Speaker

Forties Not Dangerous for People Who Keep Ideals,
Dr. Look Says

SPOKE IN BORO TUESDAY

Dr. Arnold Look, president of Ellis College, in his lecture on "The Dangerous Forties" at the Women's Community Club of Narberth Tuesday afternoon, divided people into three classes—fossils, flippers and finders.

"Fossils," said Dr. Look, "are those who live within themselves and their own narrow circle of friends who will not accept any changes in life, therefore they have nothing to look forward to; the flippers are those vacillating people who take the middle course in the political and everyday affairs of life, which makes them unsatisfactory and unstable citizens; but the finders are those who have ideals and keep to them by constant and steady striving both in business and in their home life."

Dr. Arnold went on to say that to the latter group life never became dangerous at forty or at any other period. He also touched upon the physical and mental life of the middle aged and stated that healthy, normal men and women should be enjoying life at its utmost during this period. The proper outlet at this time is a keen interest in the affairs of the world or your community, where each and everyone can find something bigger than themselves to think and work about.

Dr. Arnold also gave a sketch of the activities at Ellis College and outlined the work among girls there, who are taught vocations as boys are at Girard College. Ellis College is not a reform school, but a school for normal girls, the speaker made clear. Another speaker was Mrs. Tyler, who spoke in behalf of the Salvation Army and made a plea for support of the campaign for funds.

Mrs. John J. Martin, chairman of the Motion Picture Committee, gave a resume of the pictures to be shown at the Narberth Theatre this week and next and recommended as family pictures "The Littlest Rebel," with

Reviewer Attributes Success of "Buntz Pulls the Strings" to Work of Committees, Fine Acting

By "FIRST NIGHTER"

As one sat and watched the Narberth Players score another smashing hit in "Buntz Pulls the Strings" last Friday and Saturday nights, one could not help but wonder when this chain of continuous successes is going to be broken. For five years this valuable community organization has gone on and on without one single failure, and this play, which was their nineteenth production, deserves to be ranked with "Dover Road," "Arms and the Man," "The Tavern" and all the rest.

First prize in this production should go to the Scenery Committee, the Property Committee and the Costume Committee. The first act was in the parlor of Tammas Biggers, and the setting was most faithfully and accurately done. The third act was the same as the first, and thereby hangs a tale. A small boy was sitting with his mother near this writer and he seemed to be rather sleepy. At the end of the second act he wearily said:

Card Party Today

The Mulieres of the Narberth Fire Company will hold their card party at the home of Mrs. J. L. Minick, Windsor avenue, this Friday afternoon instead of Wednesday afternoon as formerly announced. The proceeds will be devoted to the expenses of the annual firemen's banquet to be held in April. More bridge parties will follow.

Needlework Guild to Meet in Legion Room

Larger Quarters for Narberth Branch Found Necessary for Sewing

WILL FURNISH THE YARN

The Narberth branch of the Needlework Guild of America will hold its monthly sewing meeting in the Legion Room of the Community Building on Wednesday, February 26, at 10.30 A. M.

This place of meeting is a new innovation. Heretofore the meetings have been held in private homes, but on account of the increase in membership it was necessary to secure larger quarters. The garments made at these meetings are distributed to the needy families in the borough and to various institutions and centers where charity work is so essential.

There will be ample sewing to keep all occupied and yarn will be furnished for knitting and crocheting for those who do not care to sew or who wish to do some extra knitting in their own homes.

At a recent election of officers, Mrs. C. H. Woolmington was chosen president, while Mrs. J. A. Caldwell, who has served long and faithfully, was retained as secretary, and also Mrs. Louis Shenneman, who has acted as treasurer for a number of years. Mrs. W. A. Fox will act as chairman of hospitality.

Box luncheons are suggested for Wednesday. The hostesses will serve tea and coffee. Keep the last Wednesday of each month open in the future for these meetings and put a red circle around the 26th on your calendar.

Come out and enjoy a day of fellowship with your friends and neighbors and at the same time help a worthy cause. Everybody welcome.

"The Village Choir" to be Given on Tuesday Evening

"The Village Choir" will be given on Tuesday, February 25, at 8 o'clock in the social room of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, Narberth and Woodbine avenues, Narberth.

The president of the Senior League, Ronald Howell, takes the part of the "village director," and Helen Lange portrays the ubiquitous village bell-dame.

Approximately twenty are included in the cast and chorus. Tickets are 35 cents and refreshments will be served.

Temporary Pound to House 100 Dogs Provided by Township

TO ENFORCE DOG LAW

No Animals Are Permitted to Run at Large, Licensed or Not

A dog quarantine was established this week in Lower Merion and Narberth as a precautionary step against the spread of rabies.

The Township Board of Health decreed the quarantine at a special meeting Monday, while the Narberth Health Board followed suit at its regular meeting Tuesday night.

The quarantine regulations, effective in township and borough, provide:

That any dog, whether licensed or unlicensed, muzzled, immunized or vaccinated, found running at large off the owner's property shall be picked up.

That such dogs will be detained at the expense of the owners; unlicensed dogs for forty-eight hours and licensed dogs for a longer period; dogs not claimed by their owners within these periods will be destroyed.

That licensed dogs which have been seized will be released to their owners only after a special quarantine agreement has been executed by the owner and his veterinarian.

That dogs suspected of rabies should be reported at once to the local Board of Health and not killed except in an emergency.

Enforcement of the quarantine regulations will be carried out by the Lower Merion and Narberth police in co-operation with the respective health officers, Marvin E. Reynolds and George B. Supplee.

Lower Merion Board of Commissioners took steps Monday night to co-operate with the Board of Health in enforcing the dog quarantine and to provide adequate temporary facilities where stray dogs may be housed.

A committee consisting of the following members of the Board of Commissioners was appointed: John H. Jefferies, Jr., chairman; William G. Frankenfield, H. V. B. Gallagher, Dr. Frank P. K. Barker and C. Brooke Jones.

At the regular meeting of the board Wednesday night, Mr. Jefferies reported that a temporary pound, with accommodations for 100 dogs, was in process of construction at the Mill Creek pumping station, where a detention building for six dogs was already in existence.

The township's facilities will be made available to Narberth. A committee from the borough consisting of Dr. George A. Sloan, president of the Board of Health; Burgess John R. Hall and George B. Supplee, health officer, attended the commission meeting in Ardmore Wednesday night and requested the township's aid in enforcing the quarantine. It was readily granted by the Commissioners.

The resolution passed by the Narberth Health Board establishing the quarantine follows:

"Due to the existence of rabies in Philadelphia and the surrounding suburban districts, the Board of Health in regular meeting assembled unanimously agreed that as a precautionary measure to prevent possible existence and spread of this disease from within or from without the borough, to its citizens, and to its dogs; that proper enforcement of the dog law by enforcing a dog quarantine is

Mergerites' Attorney Protests Against Costs and Court Fees

Exceptions to every item of expenses and several items of costs contracted by the Narberth Home Rule Committee, which opposed the merger of the borough with Lower Merion Township, have been filed by Franklin L. Wright, attorney for the group sponsoring the movement.

Total costs and expenses filed by Roland Fleer, attorney for the Home Rule Committee, amounted to $1076.96.

The matter will come before the next session of Argument Court for a hearing, probably the third week in March.

The Dog Quarantine—

The dog quarantine invoked this week in Lower Merion and Narberth is a strictly precautionary step. Only two actual cases of rabies have occurred in the township, but local health authorities have decided to err on the side of caution. Co-operation of dog owners in observing the provisions of the dog law will be of great assistance in preventing the spread of rabies. The law provides that dogs must be restrained at all times and that any dogs found running-at-large, whether licensed or unlicensed, muzzled, immunized or vaccinated, will be seized and detained at the expense of the owner. Their release is conditioned upon a special quarantine agreement to be entered into by the owner and his veterinarian, at the owner's expense. Dogs found running-at-large will be detained for a limited period of time and if not claimed by their owners, will be put to death. Authorities have no choice, but strict enforcement of the dog law at this time in order to prevent the spread of rabies, now prevalent in Philadelphia and other sections.

Dog Quarantine Established in Township and Borough

necessary. This resolution and articles to be enforced, to be given publicity both by the press and the posters to be placed about the borough explaining the quarantine and that such quarantine will be enforced from February 19 until further notice.

The Pennsylvania Women's Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to animals and the Animal Rescue League will pick up stray animals, co-operating with local police. Unclaimed dogs will be disposed of in the Montgomery County S. P. C. A.'s lethal chamber near Conshohocken.

Two positive cases of rabies and one believed to be rabies have been reported on the Main Line. The first was a dog owned by H. O. Wells, of 119 Upland terrace, Bala, which was held under observation by Dr. S. B. Apt, 119 Montgomery avenue, Cynwyd. The dog died February 3 and an examination of its head by the State laboratory at Harrisburg reported it positive for rabies.

The second definite case was a dog owned by James W. McDonald, 621 Railroad avenue, Bryn Mawr. Dr. J. Allyn Rogers, of 928 Haverford road, Bryn Mawr, diagnosed its ailment as rabies and his findings were confirmed by the State laboratory.

One clinically positive case has also been reported from Bryn Mawr, although an examination of the dog's head by the State laboratory was negative.

Reviewer Attributes Success of "Bunt Pulls the Strings" to Committee's Work & Acting

Burns, George Werner, Myrtle Harneden, Blanche Hongler, Phil Pitcher, Ann Darville and the many other faithful members who do their work unseen and unsung.

The amount of talent available in the Narberth Players is remarkable. Out of the ten principals there were only three that have taken part in a major production before. And out of a total of twenty-five who appeared at various times in the play, twenty of them had never been in a three-act play produced by this organization. All of the principals did well. The adverse criticisms that might be written are so minor that they may as well be omitted. One of the most difficult tasks of an actor is to act during laughter by the audience and at the same time not say anything. A few times the speaker's words were missed because of talking during laughs. Once or twice an entrance was late and on one of these occasions those on the stage turned and looked toward the door. This writer felt that the church bell sounded a little too much like a tin pail and he wished that in the third act the window shade had been all the way up so as to show the beautiful bit of scenery. But these things are so minor they scarcely count at all.

No finer bit of acting has been done by any member of the Narberth Players than the presentation of "Bunt Bigger" by Margaret MacGuffin. She entered into every mood that the author intended her to be and was charming throughout; so charming, in fact, and so skillful in managing herself and her audience that it is no wonder she pulled the strings. She has a bright future with the Narberth Players and elsewhere if she cares to continue on the stage. Paul Brown is a "find." It is most difficult indeed to get a young man of his age who is interested in acting and has the ability. It was easy to see that he likes to perform; that is one of the secrets of his success. He did a splendid job in a part that might easily have been spoiled. Bobbe Badger made everyone dislike Susie Simpson, and that is after all the test of a part such as she had. Bill Muller added another to his long series of successes in playing the part of the leading elder, Tammas Bigger. It is really remarkable the way he was able to handle the Scotch brogue when one recalls the excellent Mexican accent he had in "The Bad Man." Jim Watt was timid and awkward just as the new elder and the engaged lover, Weelun Sprout, ought to be. Jane Nash did an excellent piece of work as Eelen Dunlop. It was especially difficult for her because she had to make herself much older than she really is. Betty McConnell's portrayal of Teenie Dunlop proves that she is her mother's own daughter when on the stage, and no finer compliment can be paid her. Cecelia Link made a good Village Gossip and had some clever business which added to her part. Francis Mitchell was careful to keep himself in the background so that he made a part of the picture as the Minister's Man ought to do. Bob Estes, as we all know, has a glorious voice and certainly is in line for a bigger part soon. It is impossible to mention the kirk-goers individually, they were all good, but one must single out Helen Wetherill, Nancy Simpson and little Kay McConnell.

All in all, "Bunt Pulls the Strings" proves once more that good coaches and good material can overcome many handicaps. Natalie Fleck and Martha Simpson deserve much credit. This play is not easy to produce. The Scotch dialect was well handled and the grouping of many people on a small stage so well done that you never felt it to be crowded.

The weather on both nights was very bad, but the audiences were good, especially on Saturday, proving again what a permanent place in the community the Narberth Players have created for themselves.

THE WAR GOES ON...

There is the thunder of winter's heavy artillery over town and country...blast of snow and sleet, biting wind, penetrating chill...and the ageless battle between man and the elements is renewed.

Today that ancient warfare in many respects is between Utility Service and nature. A defensive army—mobile, trained, well equipped and supported by swiftly functioning staff work—is ready for the emergency. Girl Scout News

The three Girl Scout Troops of Narberth are combining efforts to produce a program at the Narberth Public School on Friday, March 6th, during the assembly period, in celebration of the Girl Scout Anniversary. Marian Whiting, of Troop 8, is in charge of the exhibit which will be displayed in the auditorium. Jane Nulty and Barbara Smedley, of Troop 125, are making arrangements to place this same exhibit at strategic points during the coming month.

The first meeting to make arrangements was held at Captain Christine Mahl's home on February 15. A second meeting will be held at the school auditorium for a rehearsal at ten o'clock Saturday, February 22d.

Troop 125

Troop 125 is very fortunate to have secured Miss Betty Seasholtz, of Narberth, as their new lieutenant. She has just completed a training course at the Philadelphia Headquarters under Miss Gold, Camp Director. Betty comes to the troop "chuck full" of new ideas and the scouts are looking forward to an even busier season.

Seven girls—Barbara Smedley, Sonia Anderson, Betty Jane Beaver, Jane Nulty, Claire Robinson, Louise Johnston and Helen Doty—are going to take a first aid course at Bryn Mawr Hospital under Miss Hamilton, a trained nurse.

The scout troop is going on an interesting and informative trip on Saturday. Miss Ruth Sheehan, scout leader of the air, has invited the girls to come to radio station W H A T to watch the Girl Scout program which can be heard over that station on Saturday at 2 P. M. After the broadcast, the girls will go through the Ledger Building and watch the paper come out. If time permits, they will also go through Independence Hall.

News of Troop 8

The girls of Troop 8 on February 11 proceeded to Narbrook Park, where they spent the evening sledding on the horseshoe. Several members surprised everyone by turning out to be exceedingly good skiers. After about an hour of sport they returned to the scout house, where the meeting was closed with a repast of hot dogs and marshmallows.

At the meeting of February 18, Cattie told about the program for March 6. The rehearsals are going splendidly, with almost all the girls of the three troops turning out every Saturday. The next rehearsal will be held February 22 in the Narberth school auditorium at 10 o'clock sharp. Everybody out!

The scouts spent part of the evening practicing the songs they are to sing at the Song Contest Saturday, February 29, at 2 P. M. in the Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church.

A supper meeting to be held Tuesday evening, March 3, was suggested. The plans will be completed next week.

Miss Julia Robison Wed to William S. Beddall Saturday

The marriage of Miss Julia E. Robison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Robison, of Dudley avenue, Narberth, and Mr. William S. Beddall, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Beddall, of Norristown, took place at 4 o'clock last Saturday in the Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, Narberth. The Rev. Cletus A. Senft, pastor of the church, officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin fashioned on long slender lines with a high neckline finished in the front with seed pearls and an Elizabethan collar at the back. Her full sleeves were fastened at the wrist in a tight cuff. Tiny satin buttons decorated the gown in the back. Her veil of tulle had a frilled effect across the front and was fastened to her head by sprays of orange blossoms. It fell in graceful folds over the slight train, which was formed by the skirt of the gown. She carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley with a purple orchid in the center.

Miss Catherine Robison, sister of the bride, who was the maid of honor, wore a gown of sheer pink net with large frilled sleeves and a full skirt. The neckline was high and was finished with a deep pointed rose collar. She wore a Juliet cap of the net of the same shade as her gown and carried a bouquet of spring flowers.

Miss Alice Francis and Mrs. N. M. McClure, who were the bridesmaids, wore models of turquoise net fashioned similar to that of the maid of honor's. Their Juliet caps were of the turquoise net and they also carried bouquets of spring flowers.

Mr. Charles M. Daub, of Norristown, acted as best man, and the ushers included Mr. Ronald Irwin and Mr. N. M. McClure.

Mrs. Cletus Senft sang several selections before the ceremony.

Mrs. Robison wore a gown of black pleated chiffon, a small black turban and a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Beddall wore a gown of sapphire velvet and hat of deep blue velvet. Her corsage was of gardenias also.

Upon their return from a wedding trip Mr. Beddall and his bride will reside at 1019 Swede street, Norristown. They will be at home after March 15.

Girls' Club Tonight

The Narberth Girls' Club will meet this Friday evening at eight in the Legion Room of the Community Building. A basketball game, Narberth vs. Christ Lutheran team, will be played on Monday evening away.
